CRAWFORD FUND DEREK TRIBE AWARD, 2007

CALL FOR NOMINATIONS

In 2000, with the generous support of Dr Brian Booth, AM, FTSE, the Crawford Fund established The ATSE Crawford Fund Derek Tribe Award to mark the outstanding contributions of Professor Derek Tribe, AO, OBE, FTSE, the Foundation Director of The Crawford Fund, to the promotion of international agricultural research.

The ATSE Crawford Fund Derek Tribe Award is made biennially to a citizen of a developing country in recognition of their distinguished contributions to the application of research in agriculture or natural resource management in a developing country or countries.

The recipient will attend a seminar, or other public event, nominated by The Crawford Fund, to receive the award and to deliver an address to be termed The Crawford Fund Derek Tribe Award Address.

In addition, the recipient will undertake a visit of about two weeks to agricultural centres in Australia with the intention of enhancing networking and linkages between the recipient's home institution and country with similar bodies and individuals in Australia.

The inaugural Derek Tribe Award was made in 2001 to Dr Sanjaya Rajaram, a researcher in the wheat breeding program at the International Maize and Wheat Improvement Center (CIMMYT) in Mexico. The recipients of the 2003 and 2005 Derek Tribe Awards were Dr Luis Salazar, Head of the Plant Protection Department, International Potato Center (CIP), Lima, Peru and Professor Vo-Tong Xuan, Angiang University, Angiang, Vietnam.

Nominations are now invited for the 2007 ATSE Crawford Fund Derek Tribe Award.

Nomination forms are available from The Crawford Fund Central Office or may be downloaded from The Crawford Fund Website/News & Events page
