			Hien Nguyen, Tran Minh Tien	http://www.abc.net.au/radionational/programs/countrybreakfast/country-breakfast-features/9528202 The north western highlands region of Vietnam is known for its lush green terrace farms, etched into the side of mountains. But it is also one of the poorest regions in the country. Now a $2.3 million Federal Government aid program is aiming to reduce poverty and improve nutrition in the region by boosting vegetable production. And women are integral to the plan.

27 Jan	Radio - ABC Country Breakfast	Colombia *Crawford Fund Journalism Award winner/COALAR funded journalist Brett Worthington	Mark Lundy (CIAT), Steve Beebe (CIAT), Sophie Davis, Ambassador	Country Breakfast features http://www.abc.net.au/radionational/programs/countrybreakfast/country-breakfast-features-27-january-2018/9365698 Cocaine and a deadly decades' long civil war have long hung heavily over the reputation of Colombia. It's a stereotype the Latin American country is desperate to move away from in the aftermath a landmark peace treaty the government struck with the FARC leftist rebels. A major aspect of the so-called 'post-conflict period' is convincing farmers to stop growing coca - the essential crop for cocaine - and instead grow crops for food. But working out what to grow instead is far from simple.
