

RAID Network

Connecting the Next Generation of Researchers in Agriculture for International Development

Sophie Lountain
SA RAID Representative

Crawford
Fund FOR FOOD SECURITY

Australian Government
Australian Centre for International Agricultural Research

What is the RAID Network?

The RAID Network is an Australian-based professional network for early- to mid-career researchers in agricultural development.

It aims to promote and increase emerging researchers' involvement in agricultural research for international development.

A program of the Crawford Fund, supported by ACIAR.

14 Sep 2021

SA

SA RAID Network Catch Up – Meet Tamara Jackson

📍 University of Adelaide - Waite Campus

Date and time Tuesday 14 September 2021 12:00 pm – 1:00 pm
ACST Location The University of Adelaide – Waite Campus

What does the RAID Network do?

We connect, engage and support agricultural researchers working in international development

Build connections among early- to mid-career researchers, mentors and collaborators across Australia through virtual and in-person events.

Showcase international agricultural research for development and facilitate knowledge exchange and collaboration across the sector.

Build research capacity and capability by supporting members to develop their skills, experience and professional networks.

Facilitate access to professional development opportunities for early- to mid-career researchers.

Recent SA Events

Research in Conversation: South Asia

Brought together researchers and students for an evening of conversation, networking and shared ideas, with Emma Karki sharing insights from her research with smallholder farmers in South Asia, particularly women's knowledge, agency and lived experiences.

Recent SA Events

Research on Screen: From Uganda to Vanuatu

Featured two short films showcasing ACIAR projects on cocoa and coffee in Uganda and Vanuatu, followed by a Q&A and reflections with Emeritus Professor Randy Stringer and Dr Daniel Gregg, followed by networking.

Come to our next event!

Research in Conversation

29th October, 4:30 pm at 258 Pulteney Street, Adelaide

Join us at Intersection Traders for a relaxed afternoon of sharing research in agriculture for international development, conversation, and pizza.

Hear from researchers at all stages of their careers about their work and meet others in the field.

No formal presentations, no pressure, no silly questions.
Just a chance to learn, connect, and enjoy.

RAIDNETWORK.CRAWFORDFUND.ORG

Thank you!

Scan the QR code to register for our next
Research in Conversation event.

Become a RAID member to receive info on opportunities!

Find us on socials: @raid_network

